

Any nutritional and exercise information given is for adult use only. Any information used is not a substitute for professional medical care. A person viewing this and participating in any nutritional and or exercise program should always discuss their plan with their physician.

Neither the founder or anyone associated with GreenGoddess Company are engaged in rendering professional medical advice or services to the individual participating. All matters regarding your health require medical supervision. Neither the founder or anyone associated with GreenGoddess Company shall be liable or responsible for any loss or damage allegedly arising from any information any participant choses to use based on their own accord.